Who
- For students interested in learning about distributed computing
- For faculty who want to sponsor student research in distributed computing; faculty may accompany students from their institution

When
- Friday evening, Nov 3: Reception to welcome you to the workshop
- Saturday, Nov 4: Grid Computing Basics, Distributed MATLAB

Where
- Appalachian State University, Boone, NC 26808

Why
- Introduction to Grid Computing; Hands-on Lab Activities
- Introduction to Distributed MATLAB; Hands-on Lab Activities
- Learn about distributed computing applications in computer science, math, science, engineering and business

Support
- Financial support for travel, motel for Friday November 3, meals
- $150 stipend for completing the workshop

How
- Print and fill out form at: http://www.cs.appstate.edu/nc-hpc/workshop-fall06/
- Fax the form to 828-262-7000 or email as attachment to blk@cs.appstate.edu or mail it to Barry L. Kurtz, Department of Computer Science, Appalachian State University, Boone, NC 28608
- You will be contacted about enrollment acceptance and other details
- Sponsored by the Office of the President, University of North Carolina